Dedication

We have chosen to dedicate the SPIRE of 1962 to a priest, educator, administrator, counsellor, and friend. As a priest, he has impressed all who know him with a calmness that we realize can come only from a living faith and trust in God. As an educator, he has taught many of us math, engineering, and mechanical drawing. As an administrator, he has served the college for many years as Academic Dean and Registrar, respectively; he was also largely responsible for the successful and speedy completion of O'Connell Hall. As a counsellor, he has helped us to prepare our courses of study and has given us confidence in our abilities. And as a friend, he has shown a sincere interest in the general welfare of the entire student body.

As a token of our deep appreciation of Father Jude Cleary, O.S.B., let this SPIRE stand as an expression of our hope for his continued health, happiness, and a long life in service to Belmont Abbey College.

Under the Oak

I am the Oak.
Of old, God's Hand hath set me
Standing here.
Much have I seen,
Heard many a tale unfold
Around my stem.

In clash of arms
A nation's Youth went by,
The trot of horses, the tramp of men in Blue and Grey,
Crossed the Catawba and marched by night this way
From Mount Holly and on to Richmond Hill,
Where some creid: "Victory," some lay still.

In Peace beneath my arms,
When King's Mountain was sunset stained with red,
And lovers came to make their tryst, perchance to wed:
And, all unknowing, their secrets shared
Unthinking that an old oak kenned or cared.

Then came the Cross
To establish Pax.
Though prisoned with the walls of Piedmont clay,
I shot aloft to catch the light of day;
Growing in their midst with new stability,
I gave them arbor and quiet tranquility.

Then came the monks.
And with them
I came to know their chants and hymns,
The strange chatter below my limbs;
The tolling of the sacring bell,
Or solemn stroke of the passing knell.

Listener was I,
When far below me,
Leo, Belmont's first Abbot, spoke
Like England's Austin 'neath Kentish oak,
Faith's needs to his little band,
Spoke with accents of a foreign land.

Watched I often
As the compound changed.
A Cathedral sprung from a chapel-shed,
A new wing wooed from the red earth-bed;
Sons of Subiaco, Cassino, and Fountains,
Builders of Benedict in Piedmont's Mountains.

I am the Oak.
Of old, God's Hand hath set me
A witness of a tale half-told;
I too must take my rest, grow old.
My shadow, no longer from the sun,
A mark in verse of a tale begun.
A mark in verse of a tale begun.

And thus our year began . . .

Students arrived singly and in groups, all headed for a new year, new friends, and new studies. Still full of summer vigor, still free from worries of tests and teachers, they came from many states and several foreign countries, all prompted by a common goal -- knowledge.

A well organized orientation program provided the incoming freshmen with a brief but comprehensive view of their coming college career. Later, the inevitable lines were formed in order to determine room assignments, class schedules and general college regulations. Within the space of a few brief but trying days order was established and The Abbey began as a functioning unit.

Freshman Registration

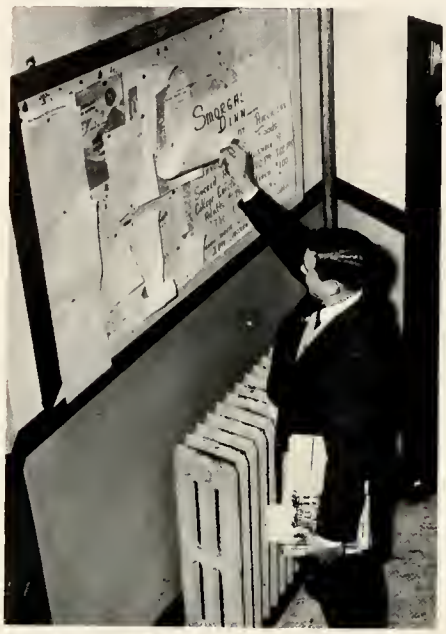
A renewal of our quest for Knowledge . . .



"Made another A"

A group of freshman horticulturists ply their trade in the gardens of Holy Angels.

For some September marked the beginning of a new experience; for others, it was the continuation of a past or past years; and for the seniors, it began the final lap in the long pull for a successfully completed college education.

New classes, new subjects, and new studies opened the door to a wider knowledge and understanding of the world. This was not designed to be easily achieved, but promised long hours of classes and still longer hours of private study and research.

The Library is the heart of any college and so through its doors began a stream of students that was not to slacken until the closing of school in June.

Mike Cunningham actually studies!

Frank and Bernie plotting madness!

Friends through victory and failure.

Old TEKE cronies gather for a few laughs.

With the opening day came the renewal of old friendships formed during the previous year at B.A.C. Summer vacations, jobs, and even studies had split old groups and spread them throughout many states. This was the time to discover all the latest concerning some friend's summer adventures and escapades and perhaps relate a few of our own. Does it really matter if we exaggerate a little or embellish each story slightly? The important thing is -- the old gang is back together and new friends are coming in.

A rekindling of friendships old . . .

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot. . . "

"Yakety-Yak"

A rough life in a motel!

Thus began a new life with many people and places and customs to which one must become accustomed. The seniors found themselves lodged in motels and a trailer for the first semester. A new super-highway was rapidly being built nearby. Paul's had expanded and nearby colleges were bursting with new faces eager to be met. It was a new climate for out-of-staters and a new accent had to be learned and, for some, acquired. Much was strange, but all was friendly and soon each fitted into a new scheme that promised rich rewards and very few were disappointed.

Put her in gear!

Goin' our way?

"Cuba, si! Yanqui no!"

A life with new fads and new faces

"Love is a many splendored thing"

"And after the fifth tank rolled over me. . ."

"You'll enjoy your vacation at Paris Island."

And thus our year ended . . .

Governor Terry Sanford addressing the graduating class

Time speeded us swiftly to graduation. Too swiftly! It had taken our youth and made us men, it had taken our ignorance and given us knowledge, and it had bound us forever to the search for Truth.

As we took our diplomas into hand and marched away, we felt secure because we knew that our years at Abbey had given us the virtue, the knowledge, and the philosophy to meet and successfully resolve any challenge which the future might offer.

FOREWORD

I stand here, a lasting record of the academic year 1961--1962. I am the final chapter for the Class of '62. Yet for others I am only the first of four chapters.

Within these pages you can feel my heartbeat and pulse. Look carefully, for I do here record the birth of college men. Watch closely as you turn each page while I note their growth and their battle for light. Join with them as they march ahead on the road of life; partake of their sorrows and tears, their smiles and pleasures. If you wish, you may dance with them at their formals or pray with them on the Lord's Day or study and work with them in their labors for a degree. Turn just one more page and you will watch them as each receives his badge of achievement, a diploma representing four years of study.

This is my purpose, my only chore. I cannot help them in their struggles nor comfort them in their pain. All this they must do alone.

I am a recorder of deeds and a folio of pictorial proof. In later years I shall be their memory and recall to them their dreams. I am a holder of their youth and a monument to their stamina and fortitude. I am all this, and I have watched well. I am the SPIRE OF 1962.

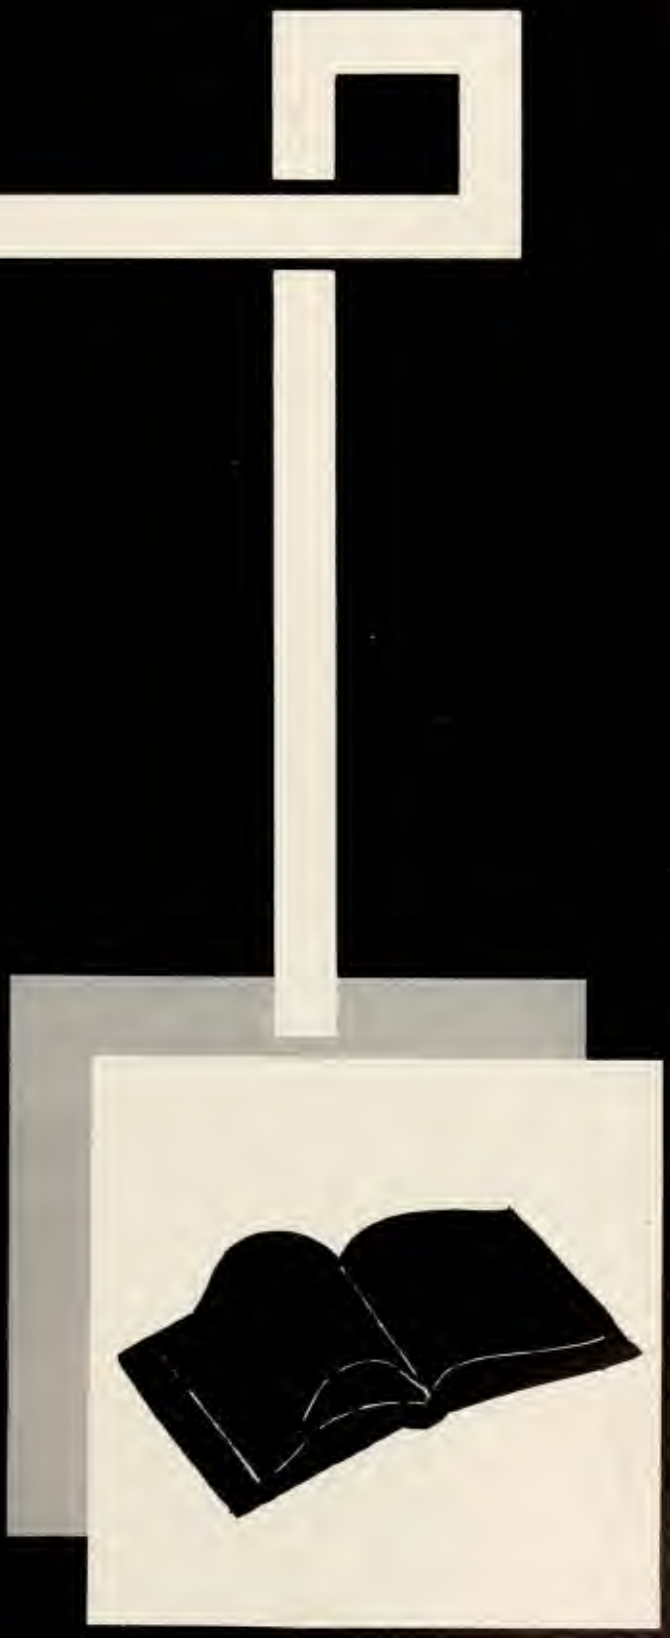
STUDENT BODY



STUDENT GOVERNMENT

By means of a new constitution, the Student Government has managed to accomplish new programs and re-establish old ones. Among these accomplishments are: a new constitution devised by the students with the aid of faculty consultation; the organization of an orientation program; the establishment of the Judiciary Board; the establishment and operation of a student sponsored film series; and the re-establishment of Belmont Abbey College in the United States National Student Association.

This year both Mr. Fulton Lewis III and Mr. Alan Newcomb addressed the student body at the invitation of the Student Government.

Stan Norton, President of Student Government.

ELECTION RALLY

"Now there's a man who's going to vote for Rick!"

"Tom Dooley for President!"

1961

Mr. Fulton Lewis, III

The Student Government brought to the campus the nationally controversial promoter of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Fulton Lewis, III. His arguments for and his movie on "Operation Abolition" greatly intrigued and interested Abbey students.

Mr. Alan Newcomb, another guest speaker for the Student Government, gave a serious, pointed talk on laughter. His talk was so enjoyed by the student body that he remained a subject of discussion for many weeks.

Mr. Alan Newcomb

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Four Years! What is four years? To an army private, it's forever. To a recluse a lifetime. To a college freshman, it's an eternity. To a sophomore, the end is still a long way off. A junior looks expectantly forward, the end is in sight. To a college senior - it's too, too short!

During our four 'too short' years what have we done? We have watched each other mature from a clumsy teen-ager into confident, responsible adults. Our class has sponsored four dances. More than our share of basketball, soccer and baseball contests and trophys have been won through our efforts. Friendships have budded and grown, though some few have fallen by the wayside. Most, however, have remained fruitful and true.

Which was our most memorable year? Was it our freshman year when the cows still wandered freely over the campus? Or was it the sophomore year when the snows fell to close the school. Perhaps, it was the junior year when we returned from Easter vacation to find the novitiate in flames. Those three years were good years, but surely the best is the fourth year when proudly we mount the stage to receive our hard won diplomas - emblems of accomplishment, and badges of honor, keys to a better life. Four years of work, of play, of sun and rain are past - four years packed with new experiences, yet four years so short as to seem like four months.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Junior Class of Belmont Abbey College of '61 and '62 has proved itself one of the finest junior classes in Abbey history.

Under the able direction of Bill Cunningham, President; Edward Johnson, Vice-President; Patrick O'Leary, Treasurer; James Caltagirone, Secretary; and Hank Underhill and Don Miller as Boarder and Day-hop Representative respectively, the Junior Class has shown a spirit of unity that is a credit to the class and the college.

They sponsored a square dance, an Abbey first. The dance was well received and proved to be a rousing success. Later in the year they sponsored the eagerly awaited Spring Formal. This was the climax of a week-end full of pleasure and excitement.

Unity and originality have been their keynotes and service to the college their aim. Their intent is to become the best Senior Class ever in the following year, and if this year is any indication of what they can do, their goal of best will not be hard to reach.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

The Sophomore work schedule actually began in June of last year. Guided by the diligent efforts of their officers during the summer vacation, they were able to initiate the academic year with one of the most successful Freshman Orientation Programs ever produced. Climaxing this program was the unforgettable dance at which the "Jets" were introduced to the Crusader Campus.

Although not as successful as last year's class, the Sophomores were ably represented in the intramural program.

The outstanding achievement was the Christmas Formal sponsored in co-operation with the Student Government. Through the splendid efforts of all committees headed by Gerard Zoby, this dance was one of the most splendid in several years. Special thanks are due to Joe Lucas for the decorating and Bob Heretick for the publicity.

With the change from the old dorms to the new finally realized this year, so also came the comparable transition from the sophomoric "wise-fool" to mature, responsible juniors. A fruitful future is obviously in the offing because success is as great as the effort and effort has been characteristic of the Sophomore Class.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

This year the Abbey witnessed the largest Freshman enrollment in its entire history. Having been enthusiastically welcomed by the upper classmen, the freshmen realized early in the year the warmth and friendship that exists on the Abbey campus. These high spirited and eager young men started their first year of college life with an orientation period that was filled with information concerning the school's history, the college curriculum and the facts of life on a college campus.

Then followed a short but spirited campaign for class officers which culminated in the election of Douglas Wetmore as President; Harvey Gregory as Vice-President; Tim Ford, Secretary; Alexander Markow, Treasurer; William Falck, Boarder Representative; and Thomas Dunn as Day-Hop Representative.

Intramural football in the Autumn proved the power of the freshmen when they captured second place with the White team captained by Robert Azar and George Tydings, while their Red team, captained by Tom O'Neil, took a strong third.

As the year progressed, Freshman Class President Doug Wetmore was heard to say, "I sure hope that the future will bring as much success and good fortune as this year has brought. Good luck to a great clan!"

"Has anyboby seen my date?
Has anybody here seen Johnny?"

Boppin' and hoppin' 'bout twelve.

Unselfish drive and determination on the part of the rising senior class made the Spring Formal a marvelous success.

The Four Lads and the Swingin' Nine Minus Three provided the music for the white-jacketed Abbeymen and their lovely ladies. Viewed from the balcony, the dance floor provided a breathtaking array of color. Whirling gowns of pastels and whites blended with the tempo of the music to produce a maze of sensations. It was a delightful evening and, to say the least, both Bill Cunningham, president of the junior class, and the members of the Student Government deserve our thanks for a successful Spring Formal.

THE DEAN'S CHRISTMAS DINNER

Abbey students arriving for the Christmas Buffet given by Fr. Eugene.

Harvey puts a table together with sheer genius!

The annual Christmas Dinner presented to the Student Body by the Dean of Students was a tremendous success. Fr. Eugene went to considerable trouble to have an excellent buffet prepared with everything from fresh fruits through a wide variety of meats to a lush strawberry cake.

After the meal, the Chanticleer's put song into the air with several Christmas carols, and their song proved to be the crux of a very enjoyable evening.

Everyone feasted lavishly for a night.

Abbeymen and their dates enjoying themselves.

Fr. Eugene's chorus spirited the evening with Christmas carols.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL

"I could have danced all night."

This year the Sophomore Class, under the commendable leadership of Class President Gerry Zoby, presented one of the most enjoyable Christmas formals ever to be presented to the Student Body of Belmont Abbey.

The Formal was held at the Veteran's Club in Charlotte and the music was provided by Baxter Potts and his orchestra. Joe Lucas and Bob Heretick were extremely instrumental in preparing for and setting up the Christmas Formal.

Looks fake!

LECTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT SERIES

Variety was the keynote in this year's lectures and entertainment. The program of attractions grew considerably in size and stature.

Throughout the wide gamut of Chamber Music to Drama to Mime, the high quality of the performances on our campus never flagged. The Lenox String Quartet opened the season on October 18 with a brilliant program that included superb performances of quartets by Mozart, Beethoven, and Kirchner. The Kirchner, new to most of us, excited the most comments and the greatest enthusiasm.

John Starrs as Richard III.

Carol Keefe as Titania and Jay Ehrlicher as Oberon in "Mid-summer Night's Dream."

Susan Walker as Lady Anne in "Richard III."

In March, Players Incorporated's heroic interpretation of "Richard III" and its fanciful and tender staging of "Midsummer Night's Dream" stirred us to new heights of admiration both for this remarkable troupe and for the incomparable genius of Shakespeare. In the same month the poignant illusion, delicate humor, wit and beauty of Franz Reynders, a talented interpreter of mime, opened new vistas of an ancient and intriguing art. Leatare Sunday, April I, was an especially joyful occasion; on that day William Brice presented a well-chosen and expertly played program of organ music in the Abbey Cathedral. Thunderous applause for Gary Towlen, a youthful 19-year-old pianist, brought the season to a close on May 1.

To stimulate our intellectual growth a wide variety of lecturers addressed Belmont Abbey audiences. Top honor went to Dr. William Roberts, Associate Professor of International Law and Relations at the Catholic University of America, who was chosen to present the annual Abbot Vincent lectures. In early January hommage was paid to science by the appearance of Dr. I. M. Levitt of the Fels Planetarium, Philadelphia, who presented a slide-lecture entitled "A Trip to the Moon." Especially worthy of note is the visit of Mr. & Mrs. E. Martin Browne who spoke on "The Plays of T. S. Eliot," and "Medieval Mystery Plays." Dr. John Mahoney, Professor of English at the University of Detroit, returned to our campus this year. He spoke on "Prokope: Redemption in the Greek Fathers."

We had many setbacks, but we always sallied forth and met the crisis. There were always pictures lost or not developed, a word left out in the middle of a sentence, or - if lucky - an 'A' would show up after the alphabetizing was completed.

We were greatly relieved when the book was finished and then we sat back and waited, and waited . . .

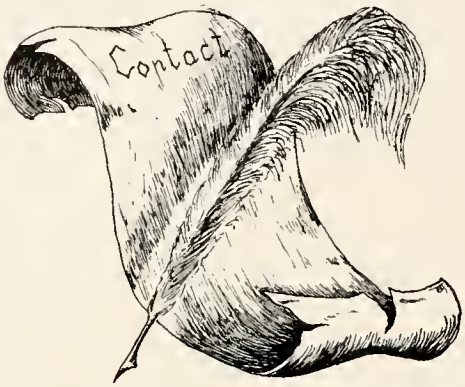
CONTACT



John Caven, Editor.

CONTACT, the monthly student publication of Belmont Abbey College, is now in its 39th year of circulation. The name "Contact" was chosen for what the word implies . . . a reaching out to and contacting of students and friends of the Abbey; a means of greater unification for all those associated with the school. The newspaper is operated and run by the students of the college under the liberal guidance of a faculty member whose purpose is not to provide censorship, but rather to give experienced advice.

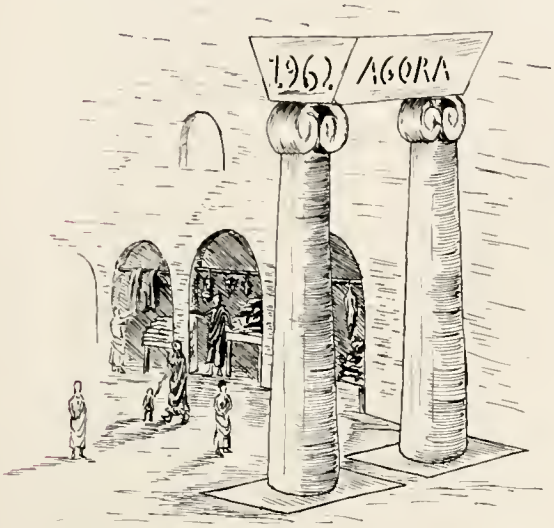
AGORA



Approximately one year ago, a small group of artistic-minded individuals banded together for the purpose of producing a literary magazine which would be truly "Abbey". After lengthly deliberation, those members involved finally chose AGORA as the name under which their imaginative efforts would be grouped. The word itself means a meeting place, but more specifically, it refers to that magazine which binds under one cover the best poems, essays, and short stories written by Abbey students during the year. Because of the fact that writers and staff members represent nearly all courses of study offered at the Abbey, the publication is an "agora" in the true sense of word, a meeting of the minds where interests are varied.

The highlight of AGORA is its emphasis on student participation. This is a direct result of the periodical's original purpose to foster a school-wide surge of literary interest and the level of taste, along with its eventual development by means of actual works of art.

This organization, composed of students and faculty who are interested in literature and the creative arts, meets at intervals of from two to three weeks.

Members select by vote certain novels, plays, or pieces of poetry to be read, analysed, and discussed at the following meeting. A group leader, usually the person who first suggested the chosen work, prepares an informal address to help guide the discussion.

For the constant donation of their time and hospitality, the club owes Mr. and Mrs. Herndl a debt of gratitude.

STUDENT TEACHERS

Mr. Spear enjoys the company of the Student Teachers.

Student Teaching provides our students with opportunities for gaining an understanding of the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession; for participating in cooperative work on the problems of the profession and the community.

It provides experiences which deepen the interest of capable students in teaching as a career; encourages the careful selection and guidance of persons admitted to the program; and, through higher standards of preparation, contributes to the teacher supply.

Its aim is to assist the wives of students to understand their husbands' purpose in college and to realize the benefits both receive by continuation of studies.

The Auxiliary provides a full program-picnics, Christmas party for the children, courses in ceramics, interior decorating, bridge lessons, and lecture series on marriage and the family, economics, and child psychology. All these have been offered over the years.

Throughout the Charlotte area, Abbey Radio broadcasts over the five major communication arteries of: WCGC in Belmont, WIST in Charlotte, and WLTC and WGNC in Gastonia. Each of these radio stations carries a weekly discussion program ranging from question and answer science forums to spontaneous discussions about present-day controversial topics. Each night over Radio Station WCGC, the workshop entertains the Abbey with dedications and the music the students ask to hear.

Authorized by Stanly Norton, President, Student Government, the Abbey Radio Workshop has been this year under the direction of Chuck McIlhinney, President; Bernie Dorr, Vice-President; John Hickman, Secretary; and Treasurer, John Darcy. Everyone concerned is fully determined to justify the theme, "You're in tune with the times when you're tuned to Abbey Radio."

Dean's Christmas Dinner.

The fondest memories of college days always include the songs and serenadings of the singing groups on the campus. Wishing to be a part of these memories and to revive the pride the Abbey had had in her glee clubs of the past, a new singing group, the Chanticleers, has made its beginning on our campus and has impressed all with its determination to be what the name Chanticleer is intended to convey in this context - one who sings with brilliance. Presently under the direction of Father Eugene, the twenty-five young pioneers made their debut as Chanticleers in a Christmas concert, and again appeared in the Abbey Revue. Success is attending the effort put forth by all involved in the undertaking and the future of these 'chanters' looks 'cleer' indeed.

INTER-FRATERNITY COMMISSION

The Inter-Fraternity Commission of Belmont Abbey College has been duly established through the action of the Student Government. The object of this organization is to promote and perpetuate the best interests of Belmont Abbey College and the fraternities associated with the college and to insure co-operation among the fraternities and between them and college authorities.

Membership consists of two members from each fraternity and one faculty member appointed by the Dean of Students.

It is within the jurisdiction of this commission to make regulations concerning rushing, pledging and initiation procedures, and to impose suitable sanctions to insure their observance.

This year the I.F.C. was increased by two members.

Gamma Iota Chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the national scholastic honor society at Belmont Abbey College, is composed of students, faculty, and alumni chosen with regard to their records of academic excellence, good moral character, and participation in cultural and intellectual activities.

To be academically eligible for selection at the Abbey, a student must have five full semesters of college work, and have a 2.0 over-all average.

The purposes of the society are to recognize academic achievements and foster scholarly activities. The membership has presently dropped to three, but it is expected that more students will become eligible for selection after the semester.

The faculty moderator is currently the Rev. Anselm Biggs, O.S.B., Academic Dean.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Paul Pettie, Secretary; Chuck McIlhinney, Chaplain; James Lytle, President; Stan Norton, Historian; John Trott, Treasurer; James Neely, Vice-President; Mike Maloney, Pledge Master; John Korte, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Jim Bennett, I.F.C. Representative.

A new vitality and flexibility sprang to life on the campus of Belmont Abbey College with the establishment of Theta-Beta Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. From its orgin, the local TEKE Chapter has maintained an honorable position of leadership in scholarship, in sports, in all extracurricular activities, and in service to the college and the community as well as in size and strength. Dr. George Herndl is the Chapter Adviser, but all programs are initiated and carried out by the fraters, who cherish independence of thought and insist on bearing full responsibility for their undertakings.

Its uniqueness is TEKE's strongest appeal to the pledge. He is stimulated to excel academically. He participates in the most vigorous social life on the campus. He is introduced to the true meaning of service to others. And he finds his delight in the genuine fellowship of men of sterling quality.

Phi Kappa Theta began its year with a round of parties to bring the Brotherhood together again after the summer vacation. These were followed by the 'Rush' parties, which included several luncheons, a beatnik party, and several coat and tie affairs. As a result of Phi Kap's Rush and personality, the Fraternity again attracted the cream of the Freshman Class and others outstanding in scholarship, sportsmanship, and leadership.

After Rush, elections were held and Jack Pillion moved into the executive office. Under his direction, Bill Cunningham prepared the Tom Dooley Project which sends thousands of dollars in medical supplies overseas each year. With Spring came the party spirit again and Phi Kap's annual presentation of Player's Inc. from Catholic University.

Secretary, Al Taylor; President, Jack Pillion, Vice-President, Ed Johnson; Treasurer (not pictured), Ben Cornelius.

The Hibernians, building upon the cornerstone of six of the original members who returned this year, have approached their goal and will soon become a colony of a national fraternity.

The Brother Hibernians had their first pledge class last fall and presented a promising Rush Program second semester.

The Hibernians introduced new vigor into Belmont Abbey's school spirit by sponsoring the Soccer and Basketball Pep Rallies this year. Their role as a third fraternity has helped ameliorate the Dual Fraternity System, thus creating a more congenial campus.

The Hibernians had many socials-mixers and stags-which brought the growing Brotherhood together often.

Jump ball coming up.

Beside being called the whale squad, the Crusaders justly deserve the title "Cinderella Team." With the loss of four starters, a mediocre team was in sight. This image was soon destroyed when the Abbey won its first six games, including the Wingfoot Tournament, before loosing to nationally ranked St. Bonaventure. In the course of the season, the team presented Coach McGuire with his one hundreth win since coming to Belmont five years ago. Captain Jim Lytle provided the play-making and settling quality necessary to all winning teams. High-scoring Joe McDermott and big Bill Ficke gave the Abbey strength off the backboards. Consistent scorers in double figures, Bernie Brennan and Joe Butts also proved themselves capable backcourt men. Coach McGuire had a good man in Hank Steinke for additional rebounding and scoring.

The Crusaders received a bid to the N.A.I.A. District 26 Regional finals after competing for four years in N.C. A.A. post-season tournaments. A trip to Kansas City would be a fitting reward to an aggressive Abbey team.

A warm hand must be given to this year's cheerleaders, who have proven to be the best rehearsed and the most enthusiastic ever to cheer for Abbey. Indeed, without these girls perhaps the team would not have done so well in those close games. Their time, practice, and effort have paid off for all who cheered with them for Abbey.

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar all for Abbey stand up and hollar!"

Our very enthusiastic cheerleaders perform.

The high-spirited members of Abbey's soccer team, completing their fourth season in N.C.A.A. competition, have earned for themselves a good reputation backed by hard work and good sportsmanship. The boys, nineteen of them returning lettermen, began practice soon after returning from summer vacation. Coach Crunkleton and the players spent many an afternoon practicing and preparing for their season, which included N.C. State, and the Universities of North and South Carolina.

Their victory over State was the high point of the season and spurred them on to a double overtime tie with Pfeiffer after an earlier loss to them. The proximity of Abbey's scores with those of her opponents is an indication of the ability and coordination developed by the team. As proof of their fine play, invitations have been received from Duke University and Lynchburg College to play them next fall. Eddie Bain, leading scorer, was nominated 'Most Valuable Player' while Don Reilly was nominated 'Rookie of the Year.'
